

http://www.heraldsun.com/business/community-members-rally-against-hb/article_9ff80e8e-fc55-11e5-9831-4b5f8b2f1ee6.html

EDITOR'S PICK

FEATURED

Community members rally against HB2

Alex Dixon 15 hrs ago

DURHAM — When Reinvestment Partners employees began renovations of its Bull City Cool Food Hub on Mangum Street last year, they found a hidden bathroom door still labeled with the word “colored.”

The label harks back to an earlier era of segregation in Durham— and now, with the passage of House Bill 2 — organizers at an event held at the hub Wednesday evening to rally against the bill say that segregation is being brought into the modern era.

Thank you for reading!

Please log in, or sign up for a new account and purchase a subscription to continue reading.

Print subscribers have FULL digital access. Register below and have your phone number ready to add your subscription to your online account.

Not a subscriber? Become a digital one! Sign up to find out about our $1 day pass and more.

Sign Up

Log In

Contact Alex Dixon: adixon@heraldsun.com, 919-419-6684

Alex Dixon

Alex Dixon covers business for The Herald-Sun. He is a 2014 graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill with degrees in reporting and economics, and a minor in creative writing.